

Tab A, No. 9

Eighth Coast Guard District

LMR Enforcement Update

January 2017

THE OVERALL CLASSIFICATION OF THIS BRIEFING IS:

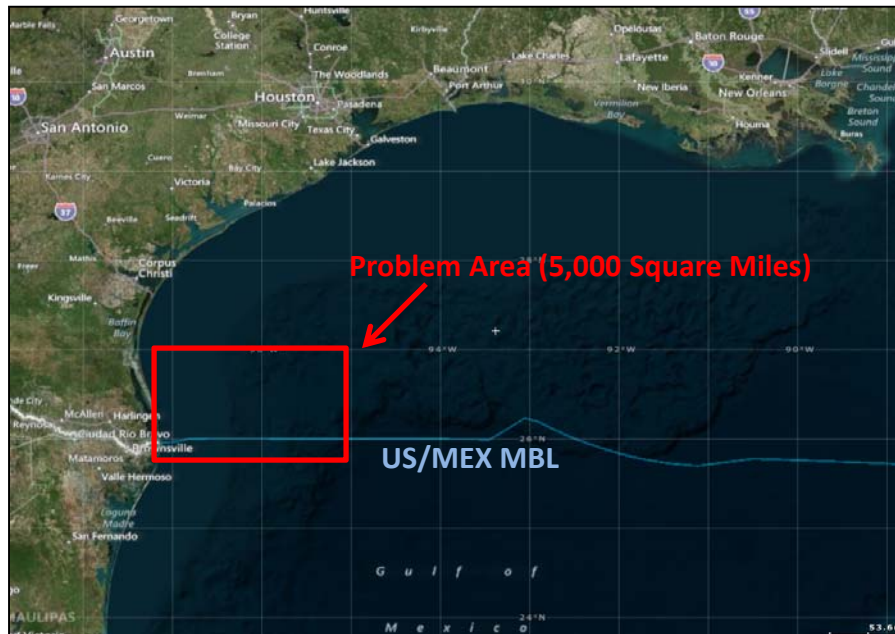

UNCLASSIFIED

(U) The Lancha Threat

• (U) Problem Set

- (U) Lanchas are known to operate north of the Maritime Boundary Line (MBL) on a regular basis
- (U) There is no legitimate reason for a lancha to operate north of the MBL

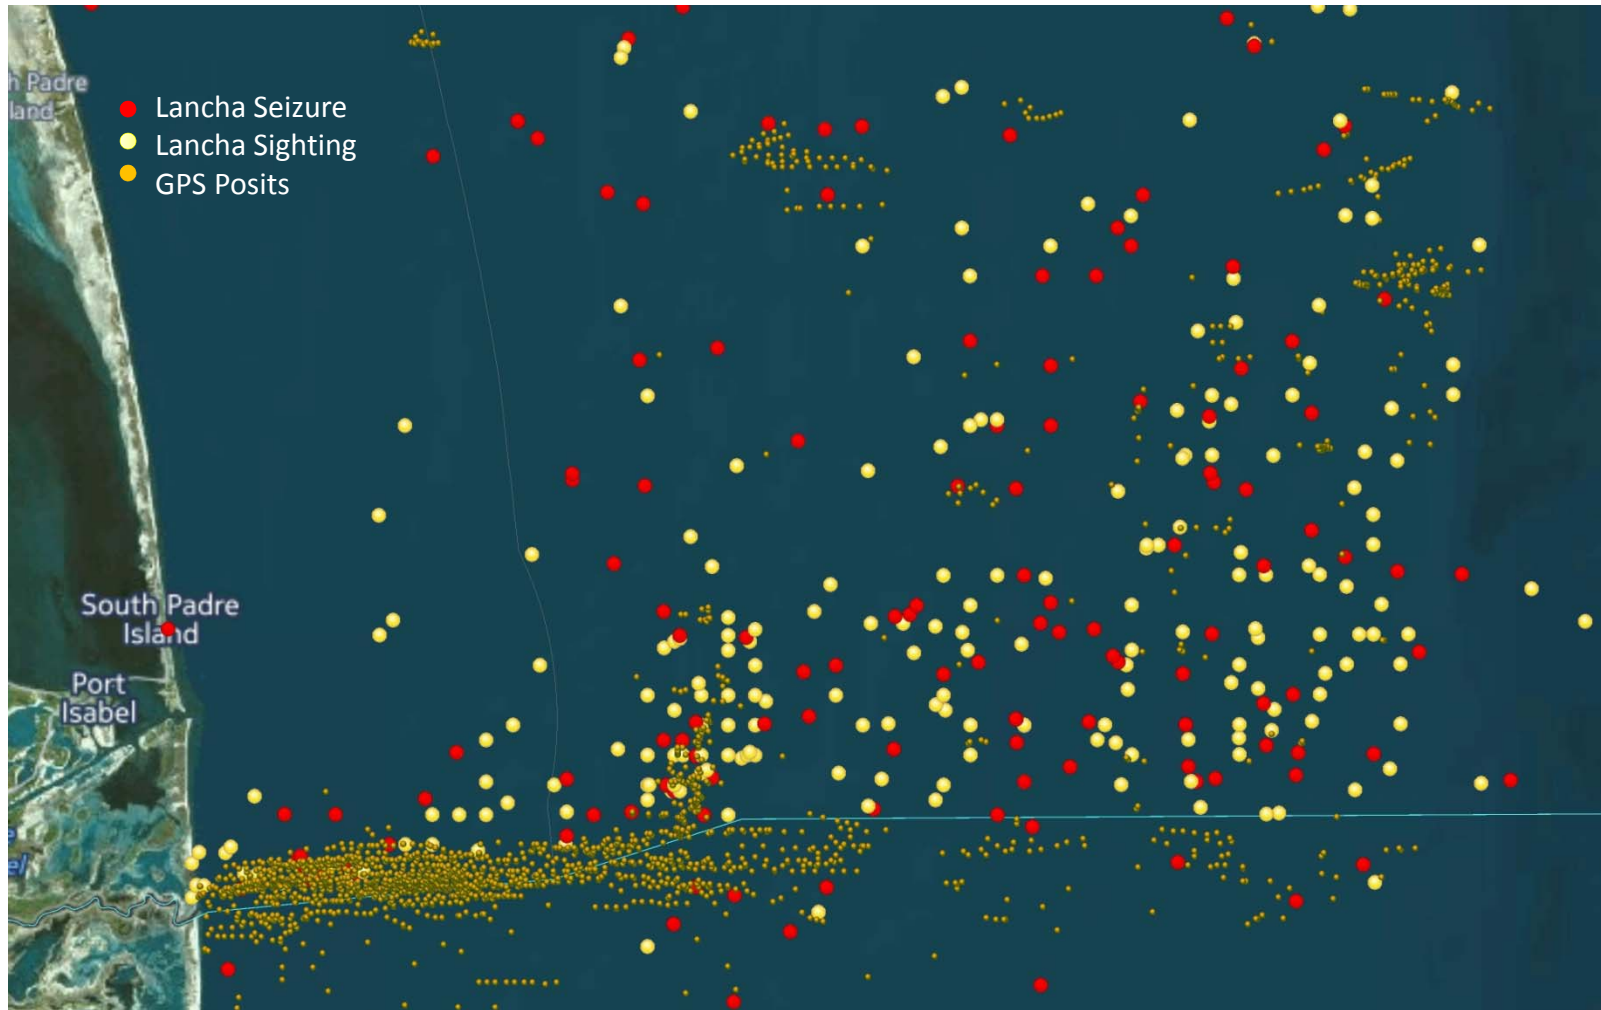

(U) Lancha sighted by USCG aircraft north of the MBL.
(U) Source: USCG

(U) Lancha sighted by USCG aircraft north of the MBL.
(U) Source: USCG

(U) Document and Media Exploitation (DOMEX) and Lancha Detections/Seizures

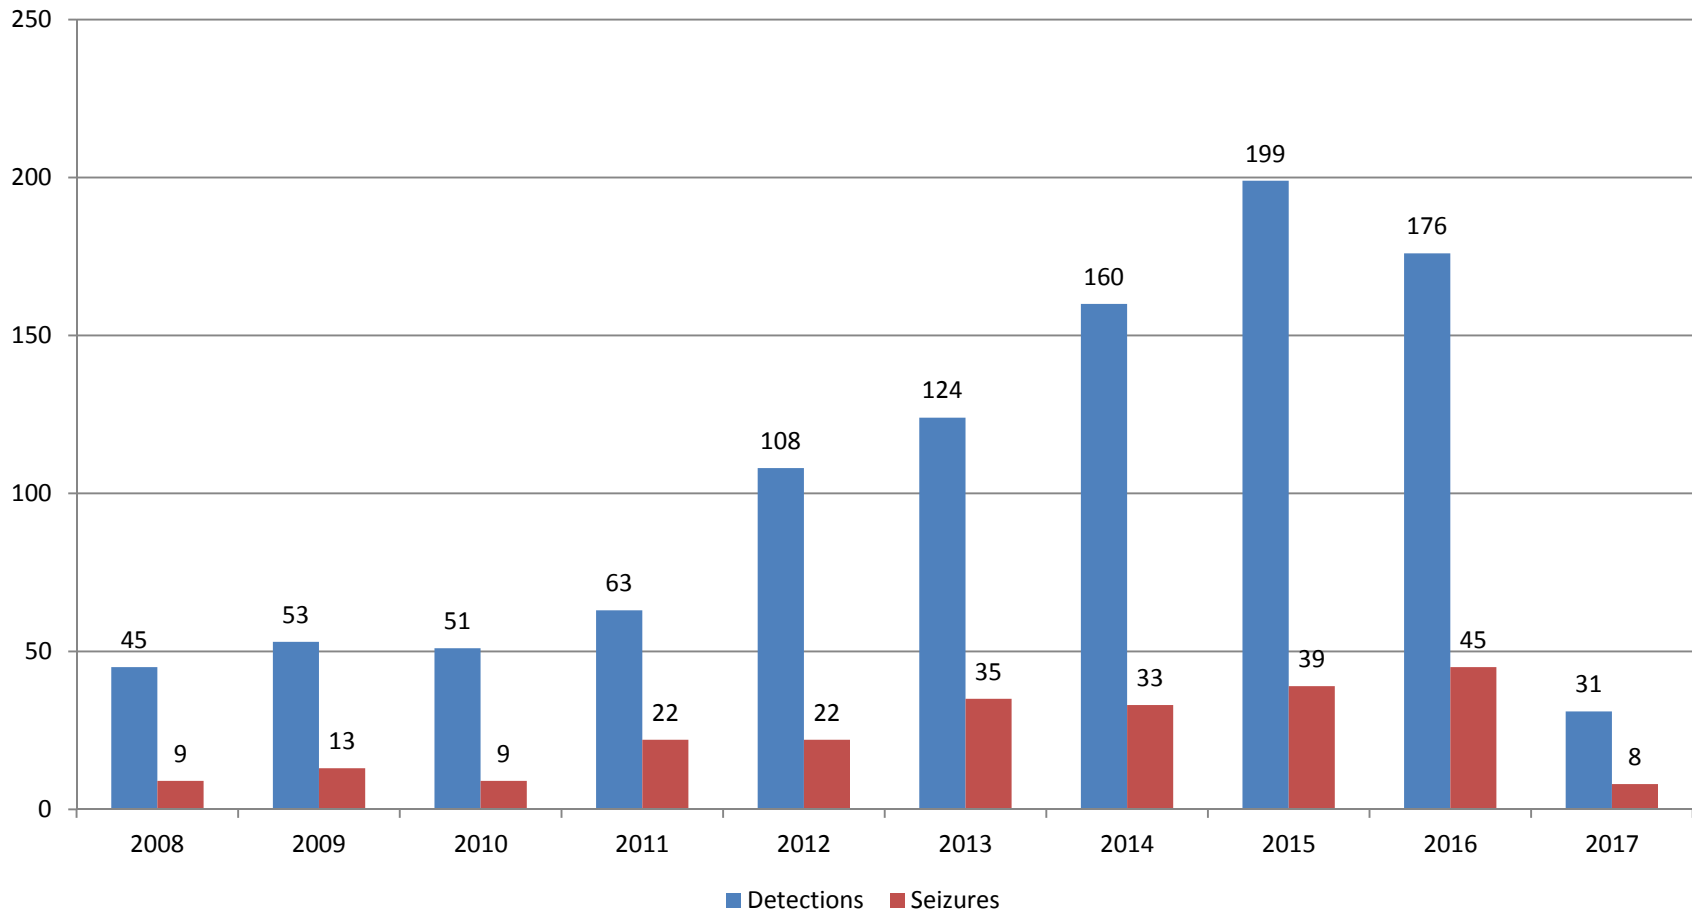

UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

Lancha Detections/Seizures (FY08-FY17)

Through 31 December 2016

Slide Date: 10 Jan 2017

UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY

(U) Lancha Incursions

• (U) US Fishery Impact Estimate

- (U) Estimated 1,130 lancha incursions/year
- (U) Optimal catch for one lancha is 800 – 1,200 lbs/day
- (U) Larger lanchas are known to catch upwards of 3,000 lbs/day
- (U) 780,000 lbs of red snapper poached from US waters by lanchas
- (U) 30-31 MAR 16: 7 lanchas sighted, 5 seized containing 2,589 red snapper; new 24-hour record
- (U) Economic impact to the US red snapper industry is estimated to be $3.9 - $11.7 million USD/year

 Note: Items in red were derived from a forecast model developed by two independent, academic studies. Due to several factors, it is likely the model is underestimating the actual magnitude of illegal MEX lancha operations.*

(U) The images above depict catch and gear seized from three separate lancha interdictions.

(U) Source: USCG

(U)Domestic Violations

F/V FOOTPRINT:

- 48 Red Snapper discovered in the fish hold (many under legal size limit).
- No federal fishing permit nor IFQ for red snapper (recreational season also currently closed).
- Three BRD violations identified: openings were < 5" requirement.
- Two TED violations identified: > 4" gap on grid structure & > 24" flap extended below grid.

RECREATIONAL CABIN CRUISER

- 171 Red Snapper discovered onboard. Owner/operator stated they caught the Red Snapper 25 NM offshore. Recreational season in Federal Waters is closed.

